COSTUMES

Parents are responsible for providing costumes and make-up for their child for the performances except for specific costume pieces that may need to be special-ordered. Once the play is cast, the Costume Coordinator (Camille) will send home information/picture samples on the costume details. You may make the costume yourself, buy the costume, or enlist the help of other parents and/or friends. If you do not already have suitable costume pieces, we recommend going to Goodwill or other used clothing store. We are here, to help so please don't hesitate to ask us for ideas on how to construct your costume.

A NOTE ON CASTING

Here at the Bayou Playhouse/Rougarou, your child does not request a specific role in the summer program. We want to make sure that all parents and supporters of each child understand that the staff of Rougarou takes casting very seriously. We strive to make sure that all students have interesting and challenging roles in each production. However, this means that not every student will have a "lead" in every play. This is partly because there's a limited amount of large parts in any given production, but also because not every child is ready for the challenges inherent in a lead role.

We always give each student the role that will help them learn the skill that we assess to be their current performance challenge. For some, that might mean working more on physicalizing their character and for others that might mean working on their vocal technique. Others, especially those who are still not quite comfortable onstage, might need to focus more on working within a small ensemble to become more adept at storytelling and to learn to be more comfortable in front of an audience before taking on the added pressure of driving a story forward as a lead role.

Whichever role your child receives; we ask that you trust our assessment of where your child is in his or her creative process. What we do on stage is a very small part of what we do overall in the workshop. Each child receives attention and training and each student is just as important to our staff as any other. Thank you for joining the Rougarou family!

SOCIAL MEDIA

We have created a Facebook page specifically for our parents who are in each summer program. Please join the Rougarou Theatre Troupe / Parents for news, shared info between parents and open questions. This is not an open page for fans but closed to parents and those directly involved with the summer program. Purging of the page will periodically take place.

Thank you for being a part of the Rougarou Theatre Troupe!
